The Metaphor

A philosophy professor once stood up before his class with a large empty jar. He filled the jar to the top with large rocks and asked his students if the jar was full.

His students all agreed the jar was full.

He then added small pebbles to the jar, and gave the jar a bit of a shake so the pebbles could disperse themselves among the larger rocks. Then he asked again, "Is the jar full now?"

The students agreed that the jar was still full.

The professor then poured sand into the jar to fill up all the remaining empty space.

The students then agreed again that the jar was full.

In this story, the jar represents your life and the rocks, pebbles, and sand are the things that fill up your life. The rocks represent the most important things you have going on, such as spending time with your family and maintaining proper health. This means that if the pebbles and the sand were lost, the jar would still be full and your life would still have meaning.

The pebbles represent the things in your life that matter, but that you could live without. The pebbles are certainly things that give your life meaning such as your house, hobbies, and friendships, but they are not critical for you to have a meaningful life. These things often come and go, and are not permanent or essential to your overall well-being.

Finally, the sand represents the remaining filler things in your life, and material possessions. This could be small things such as watching television, browsing through your favorite social media site, or running errands. These things don't mean much to your life as a whole, and are likely only done to waste time or get small tasks accomplished.

The Moral: The metaphor here is that if you start with putting sand into the jar, you will not have room for rocks or pebbles. This holds true with the things you let into your life. If you spend all of your time on the small and insignificant things, you will run out of room for the things that are actually important.

In order to have a more effective and efficient life, pay attention to the "rocks," because they are critical to your long-term well-being.

Deepest Condolence

The second wave of COVID-19 has jolted & disrupted lives and livelihood alike. It has not only shattered many a dreams but has snuffed out several precious lives as well.

We are deeply saddened to express that our two most promising employee and associate lost their life battling this deadly disease leaving their families and ACEBOND fraternity stunned and devastated.

Mr. Nalli Ramesh was a hard working sales employee of our Visakhapatnam region, lost his life after 15 days struggle in hospital. He was not only a successful salesman but also a gentleman. It's hard to get over the things in such a sorrowful situation. Nothing can ever fill the voids in the life of his loved ones that he left behind but to enable his dependants to pick up the threads and gear up to cope with the life for certain extent, all of our employees contributed their few days salaries and management also made some provision to sustain a decent lifestyle.

Mr. Mohammed Iqbal Bankapur was our sales employee of Hubli region and later turned up as our promising dealer. During his employment and association with us, he was consistently a brilliant performer and service provider.

We ACEBOND family convey our heartfelt condolence to their family on this bereavement. We pray to the God to give all of them the strength to bear this great loss with courage and fortitude.

Mr. Nalli Ramesh

Mr. Mohammed Iqbal Bankapur

Salute to our Covid Hero

A society is who it is made up of. English novelist Graham Greene once said, "A thought from you could be a prayer in the eyes of God." That's just what "Team Moodlakatte" has proven to be for those stuck in lockdown with no idea where their next meal would come from.

Over the past two years, people have been looking for different ways to be of assistance to those in need. The lockdown meant that they could neither work nor earn. In the absence of savings, their families would be starving.

Food, among all the other necessities, was a challenge for many to have access to. However, during these unprecedented times, India's real-life heroes came forward and fed the hungry.

Mr. Abhijith Kotari, Asst. Manager - Sales of ACEBOND, sat down with like-minded people and discussed how his intention could be translated to action and decided that they may not be able to prevent death by the novel coronavirus, but death due to hunger was something they could prevent and so formed "Team Moodlakatte". Immediately they jump in to action and supplied good number of ration kits, medicine kits, sanitizers, masks, etc. to the needy people.

So far himself and his wife with their own earnings and with the help of community, distributed more than 1200 food kits, more than 100 medical kits, arranged free ambulance for Covid +ve patient and counseling for patient and their family, arranged free transportation for vaccination who are in real need.

He distributed ration kit worth of 25 days cooking items and other daily needs for more than 550 families including 45 specially abled. He also distributed needy things for local police stations, health care centers and other organizations. He served the society not for publicity but wholeheartedly with great enthusiasm and unconditional commitment.

Lets salute our Covid Hero – Mr. Abhijith Kotari.

Feel free to give your views, feed back, ideas and opinions related to this field. You may be the next face in our news letter.
